Advisor Notes:

Working with a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™

Our team is comprised of experienced and dedicated advisors, with four CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ professionals serving our clients: Beth Kraszewski, CFP® professional, Chris Pavel CFP® professional, Morgan Ziegler CFP® professional, Geoffrey Dunmore CFP® professional.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ professionals are held to a high level of standard and care. Our process and standards are spelled out in the following paragraphs.

We provide financial planning and investment advisory services to our clients, and we endeavor at all times to place out clients' interests first. Advisors are registered representatives with Keating Financial Advisory Services and RJFS and recommend securities products offered by RJFS. Clients are charged on affixed-fee basis and/or based on assets under management. All fees are disclosed and agreed upon before services are provided. Advisors share in the fees with KA and RJFS, and as reps, may be eligible for incentive compensation.

It is our philosophy for each of our clients to receive some level of financial planning, which is determined by their financial situation and financial planning agreement. Financial plans are customized based on each client's needs and may include cash flow and budget analysis, education planning analysis, retirement planning analysis, risk and insurance analysis, estate planning analysis, charitable giving, and investment analysis. Clients are free to implement recommendations themselves or with outside providers; however, we have the capability to provide investment management, 529 college savings plans, insurance products, and advice on company pension plans and cafeteria plans. If the client chooses to implement any recommendation with us, additional fees might be charged.

As part of our investment advisory services to you, we may recommend that you invest in mutual funds, exchange traded funds and separately managed accounts. The fees that you pay to our firm for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, exchange traded funds and outside managers, these fees can include management fees and other expenses. You also may incur charges and/or brokerage fees when purchasing or selling securities. Such fees will be discussed and disclosed at that time.

In an advisory relationship, the advisor will monitor accounts and financial plans on a periodic basis to ensure the advisory services provided to you are consistent with your investment needs and objectives. Financial plans will be reviewed and updated at your request or as set forth in the signed agreement for services. We recommend having a meeting and formal account review with you at least annually. Additional reviews or meetings may be conducted upon either your or our team's request.

Our strength is providing our clients with broad and robust strategies designed to achieve their goals. As such there are several unaffiliated professionals (CPAs, attorneys, etc.) we lean on for professional support and guidance, none of which we receive or give a referral fee. We have no soft dollar arrangements with outside firms and do not receive client referrals from broker-dealers in exchange for cash or other compensations, such as services or research. We do not directly or indirectly compensate any non-employee (unsupervised) consultants, individuals and/or entities (solicitors) for client referrals.

We practice what we know and are not afraid to collaborate with other specialized professional relationships we have or that our clients have, such as insurance, estate planning, and tax preparation. All third parties that we refer clients to are experience individuals who have a deep well of knowledge in their fields and who we have relied on many times with positive results. These third parties are eligible to receive compensation in the form of fees or commissions if the client chooses to engage them for services separately.
